ASPHALT

We are bike designers who ride our bikes to our bike design jobs. So, we've been building bikes that have been taking us to work and back for all these years, and some of these bikes have made it into our lineup, and others we selfishly hoard here back at headquarters. This year we've decided to group 9 of these models to make up our Asphalt line. Within this group, we've included a wide range of uses such as the sensibilities of the Dr Dew to the truck stop freak show of the BikeHotRod. Throughout the entire line, we've taken our Kona philosophies, and applied them to bikes that are more or less intended for riding the really hard stuff... namely concrete...but we're calling it Asphalt. Got it?

KONA ASPHALT

We're taking our act on the road. Actually, we've always taken our act on the road and now we're collecting all the ideas, people, experiences, and bikes that we've met along the way. Kona Asphalt is a collection of bikes inspired by everything from Jack Kerouac to Pee Wee Herman...prior to his "misfits" of course. Have fun with these bikes. We sure have.
